Almost Foolish

13th week in the series "A Life of Passion: The Story of David."

1 Samuel 25:1-44

After seeing David at his best in the previous story, we see a new side of David. Shaken by the death of Samuel, he is sent into a murderous rage by an insult. A wise woman steps up to help him avoid the mistake he is about to make. His response to her is as amazing as his angry rage. We'll see in ourselves the tendency to do the very things that we despise in others. And we'll be inspired to learn from the voices of others who can speak God's truth to us.

Discussion Questions:

1. Have you ever found yourself acting like the people you once criticized?
2. What people has God put into your life to be his voice to you?
3. Do you listen to others who speak words of wisdom to you?
4. In what ways do you try to save yourself? How can you trust God to save you in those areas of your life?
