Pushing Against a Rock

Twelfth week in the series: Kingdom Work

Genesis 31:42

Eventually, Jacob became successful in Haran despite oppressive working conditions. In Genesis 31, Jacob reflects on his years of toil. Jacob, then, grants us a perspective on vocation that we in the Silicon Valley sorely need.

Discussion Questions:

1. If there's any sense in which you've felt you've been "pushing against a rock" in your vocation, describe this experience?
2. How have you seen or not seen God's involvement in your vocation?
3. How do you think your experience in your vocation has shaped your faith in good ways and/or bad ways?
4. How do you, or can you go about serving God in your vocation?
