Preacher: Paul Taylor

What We've Always Wanted

25th week in the series: Wake Up

Revelation 21:1-8

Finally, we witness God's new creation of heaven and earth. After seeing him clear away evil from the earth throughout the book of Revelation, we encounter the new work which has been his goal all along. This picture of eternity is powerful. It calls to us. If we recognize it as what we've always wanted, we can thirst for God and keep our faith in him.

Discussion Questions:

1. Which phrases stand out to you the most from the first four verses of Revelation 21.
2. What are your strongest desires? What could it mean for you to listen to them?
3. What resonates with you in the image of a God who "makes all things new"?
4. How have you followed your desires to lead you to Jesus? Is that image helpful?
5. Are you thirsty?
6. When have you struggled with cowardice or denying the truth? How has it kept you from experiencing the joy of true life?
