Pleasures Forevermore

Eighth week in the series: Songs of the Soul

Psalm 16

Is God a cosmic killjoy, as some claim? Is he against pleasure, as some claim? Psalm 16 answers these questions with an emphatic no. Where then are joy and pleasure to be found?

Discussion Questions:

1. If you feel that you have found God in some way, what sort of clues did he leave so that you might seek him, feel your way toward him, and find him?
2. How have you experienced pleasures from the right hand of God?
3. In the new creation, Jonathan Edwards says, "Every perceptive faculty shall be an inlet of delight." How do you respond to this?
4. If God gives you pleasures, even pleasures forevermore, what does this tell you about him?
5. How do you think you might enter God's presence and experience joy?
